This Office is not adverse to allowing compensation at the appropriate overtime rate to the claimant for such number of hours in excess of 26 per week as actually he worked. This number may not exceed the statutory maximum on the number of overtime hours permissible. We so hold on the particular facts involved; and we do not consider this holding to constitute a precedent for like cases arising at DOB. We suggest that the entire matter be referred to this Office for a ruling which may have application to such other cases.
